OUTDOOR UPHOLSTERY

The Stitch & Hand Collection outdoor upholstery is designed with high quality, performance fabric that resists stains, mildew, and fading, making it easy to maintain and suitable for partial outdoor use. While all parts of the upholstery are made to withstand outdoor conditions, we commend storing your furniture indoors during prolonged periods of inclement weather.

It's important to note that mold and mildew spores can thrive in dirty and damp environments. Therefore, cleaning your outdoor furniture is essential, but it's not sufficient on its own to keep it in good condition. Regular maintenance is also necessary to protect it from the elements and prevent wear and tear over time. To help prevent mold and mildew growth, always remove wet cushions from furniture frames and conduct routine cleaning and maintenance.

Care & Maintenance:

Cleaning

For regular care, use a dry, soft-bristle brush to remove dirt and dust before it settles into the fabric. Spot clean outdoor cushions and upholstery with a clean, absorbent, undyed cloth, using a blotting motion. Blot from the outside towards the center of the soiled area to avoid creating rings. Do not scrub. After cleaning, position the cushions on their sides with the zipper facing down and opening to ensure efficient drainage. Keep in mind that stubborn stains may require professional cleaning.

Maintenance

To further protect your outdoor furniture, avoid allowing water to pool on surfaces, and consider using outdoor-rated covers when the furniture is not in use. Ensure that all items are clean and dry before covering them. If possible, remove the cushions when covering the furniture for extended periods to prevent mildew. If the cushions do get wet, unzip them and place them upright to facilitate drying. In snowy or extremely cold regions, thoroughly clean and dry the furniture before storing it in a dry location to prevent moisture damage. Always store the furniture indoors and ensure it is completely dry before storing.
